Bingham Subsidiary, Paradigm Convergence Technologies Expands Operations & Facilities

Lenexa, Kansas, December 9, 2016

Paradigm Convergence Technologies announces that they are expanding operations and capacity to meet expected demand for its Annihilizer® facility cleaning and sanitizing system solution and other on-site systems for both the facilities and agricultural markets. The Company executed the definitive agreement for the acquisition of the complete Annihilizer® technology on November 29th.

The Annihilizer® system solution was introduced to the facilities management and sanitation industries at the IEHA and ISSA/Interclean North America Trade Shows in October and has received a very positive response which supports managements decision to expand capacity.

To facilitate this expansion the company is hiring additional employees and contract personnel and has completed its move to a significantly larger facility, a 14,000 square feet office/warehouse located at 4235 Commerce Street, Little River, SC 29566.

The new facility has more office, conference and meeting space a well as a show room for presentations and systems demonstrations to prospective partners, clients and investors. The R&D, manufacturing and warehouse space is also increased, testing and clean room space with upgraded utilities to power manufacturing and simultaneous operation and testing of multiple systems and other equipment.

Paradigm's management believes the new facilities will be sufficient to support the current and expected growth for at least the three-year term of the lease
